

Life just gets better and better!

Welcome to Fogless International at MEDICA 2017

We strive to help our users have a better life, and this year is no exception. Now can the SPIRO® range of products be used for longer, making them even more economical. Other recent developments include the introduction of the new purple SPIRO® Speaking Valve to support hospital safety protocols, as well as the enhanced packaging options. SPIRO® is unique with its exchangeable filter system that protects the user from dirt and dust, while still offering low inhalation resistance. We also present the innovative octagon® LAO Tube developed by Professor Carl-Eric Lindholm. The anatomically shaped endotracheal tube reduces recovery times and provides for longer intubations.

The future is only a breath away – let's meet it together!
